DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Filkow (US 4,199,089) in view of Merrill (US 460,023). Filkow illustrates in Fig. 2 a glove shaping device for heating and shaping a glove including a heating plates 14 and 16, a body portion 12 with an interior portion with an electric heater 12, and a cover 18. Filkow does not explicitly show the cross section of the fingers of hand 54 in fig. 6 having a rhomboid shape. However, Merrill illustrates a glove-shaping device with fingers D having a rhomboid cross section in Fig. 2. This includes having the plates 1-4 being aligned generally along common parallel planes and remaining perimeter portions of said cross sectional shape which interconnect said two sides being tilted to a common side to the vertical, with a concavity between each other which defines an enlarged space between adjacent sides of the heating plate, said heating plates being sequentially arranged in spaced apart fashion and sized for insertion into finger portions of a glove.

As to claim 14, Merrill illustrates the device having an angular groove E forming the cavity between the fingers.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Filkow (US 4,199,089) in view of Merrill (US 460,023) in further view of Shikatani (US 4,472,836). Filkow/Merrill teach the device substantially above. Filkow/Merrill do not teach the use of a coating applied to the heading place. However, Shikatani teaches the use of paper (Col 2 line 14-15) to allow for the glove to be removed from the form. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the teachings of Filkow/Merrill and Shikatani to provide a glove form with an easily removable glove that won't stick due to the paper.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 16-17 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claim 16 teaches heating plate with a rhomboid cross section in combination with a triangular portion bounded on one side of the rhomboid cross section adjacent an acute angle corner now shown in the prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
